

1

channel surface is composed of stable native material sufficient to support crossing use.

2

3
